TAMMANY DEEP IN THE MUD.

New York Democracy Same as in the Days of Tweed.

Terrible Charges Made Against a Milwaukee Physician.

"The Party of the People."
By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—A legislative investigating committee held a most sensational session to-day. Richard Croker and Mayor Grant, Tammany leaders, were scorched unmercifully by lawyer Ivans, council to the committee.

The witness who created the sensation was Patrick McCann, a leader of Tammany Hall. McCann was a most reluctant witness. In substance, he testified that while Grant was a member of the Board of Aldermen, Tammany Hall made desperate efforts to have him appointed Commissioner of Public Works. For this purpose $180,000 was raised, Grant giving $80,000 and the Tammany organization the other $100,000. This money was to have been paid to the Aldermen for Grant's confirmation by that body. Mayor Edson appointed Rollin M. Squire, however, and the money was not used.

The next question was a startler: "While Grant was Sheriff did he give any money to Croker or any member of his family to your knowledge?"

McCann tried to avoid answering, but was finally forced to reply in substance that Mrs. Croker told him that while Sheriff, Grant, on five different occasions, handed Flossie, the six-year-old daughter of Croker, an envelope containing $5,000, making $25,000 in all. This money went to pay for the house the Crokers are living in. Witness also testified that Leicester Holme, Mayor Grant's private secretary, visited Mrs. Croker as a representative of Mayor Grant, several times since Croker went to Europe. Holme offered Mrs. Croker her expenses and someting more if she would go to Germany, but she refused.

It was also elicited from the witness that Dr. Beekman, the family physician of the Crokers, had been approached by Holme and asked to go abroad. Political circles are agitated to an unusual extent at the testimony regarding Grant and Croker. Mayor Grant was not at his office to-day, and no person there seemed to know where he was, though it was said he was out of town. The Mayor's private secretary, Leicester Holme, denied that he ever visited Mrs. Croker on any such mission as was testified to by McCann.

Ask for Protection.
By Associated Press.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—At a meeting of the non-union carpenters who have come here from other States since the beginning of the strike a memorial was drafted setting forth the fact that they have been assaulted and terrified, that the local police and other authorities refuse to protect them, and that they therefore ask the Government's protection. The memorial is addressed to Secretary Blaine.

Presidential Veto
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The President vetoed the bill "to authorize the city of Ogden, Utah, to assume increased indebtedness." This is President Harrison's first veto.

Congressional Matters.
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, April 26.—A caucus of Senate Republicans was held this morning to consider the silver situation. The committee which met a committee of the House Republicans to agree to a form of a silver bill made a report.

Then ensued a discussion, which was not completed when the time for opening the Senate arrived.

It is said a great variety of views were expressed by the Senators, but the friends of the measure are confident that the bill agreed upon by the two committees will be agreed to by the caucus.

SENATE.

The Senate bill to carry out in part the terms of the agreement with the Sioux Indians of Dakota for the sale of a portion of their reservation and the appropriating of $180,000,000 for that purpose was reported and passed.

The Senate then proceeded to the calendar.

The Senate bill to validate pre-emption filings and pre-emption proofs made within the States of North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington was passed.

A bill was passed authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to negotiate with the Turtle band of Chippewa Indians for a cession of their reservation.

HOUSE.

Allen of Mississippi, rising to a question of personal privilege, replied to the strictures in the press and the Pennsylvania Republican Convention on the recent speech in which he reflected on the integrity of Senator Quay. He said it had never been his purpose to begin an attack on Senator Quay, and he had never done so. In the heat of debate, in reply to Cannon, who arraigned the Democratic party because it had defaulting State Treasurers, he simply said the Democratic party had never elected them to the United States Senate or made them Chairmen of its National Committees. He did not know Quay, but understood that he was a man of some good traits, but he was no party to any conspiracy to injure or defame him.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the legislation appropriation bill.

Some Terrible Charges.
By Associated Press.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 26.—A local paper devotes five columns to the alleged expose of the criminal practices of Dr. Thomas Hatchard.

Ten days ago Dr. Hatchard brought suit for a divorce against his wife, Nancy, in which he alleged that she excessively used liquor and morphine.

Mrs. Hatchard, in answer, charged her husband with many cruel and brutal acts, including criminal malpractice and the burning of young babies alive. Among other things the answer, which is sworn to, states that he converted their home into a hospital, where women who wished to avoid the consequences of their crimes were treated; that she was forced against her will to care for and nurse them after he performed the operations. She also alleges that on at least two occasions, the doctor burned prematurely born babies, and that one woman, Maggie Hogan, from Fon Du Lac county, died in their house from the effects of his criminal operation. The answer gives the names, dates and details of a horrible chapter of crimes alleged to have been committed by the doctor.

In an iterview, attested by an affidavit, Mrs. Hatchard declares that she saw her husband take no less than five new-born infants, build a hot fire and throw them shrieking and kicking into the flames. He did the same, she says, with many others, both dead and alive, probably twenty altogether. The Hogan girl and another named Langworthy died from the effects of abortions in their house. The records of the Health Department show the death of these girls.

Ex-Congressman Page's Condition.
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The condition of ex-Representative Horace F. Page of California, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, was practically unchanged this morning. Page has suffered from asthma for some years, and recently heart trouble set in, which completely prostrated him. Dr. Lowers, his attending physician, said this morning that Page might live some weeks or some months, but his sudden death at any moment would not surprise him.

No Stock Yard Strike.
By Associated Press.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—It is now stated that there will be no strike of the packing house emloyes at the stock yards, as was at one time feared, which would have involved 15,000 men. There was a strong sentiment in favor of it, but older heads, who passed through the disastrous strike of 1886, counseled against it.

Hoar's Election Bill.
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The Federal Election bill reported by Senator Hoar provides that the Chief Supervisors of Elections shall be charged in their respective judicial districts with the supervision of Congressional elections, with the enforcement of the national election laws, and with the prevention of fraud and irregularities in naturalization. Whenever any city having 20,000 inhabitants or upward, or in any Congressional district, 100 qualified electors shall petition the Chief Supervisor, alleging there is danger that unless the election is guarded it will not be fair and free, it shall be the duty of the Judge of the United States District Court to open Court for the purpose of transacting all business pertaining to registration or election matters as may by any United States law there be transacted. The Court shall be always open for the transaction of such business until the second day succeeding the election, and the Judge may exercise his powers in open Court or Chambers. The Chief Supervisors may verify the registration lists, and in any city of 50,000 inhabitants or upward may cause a house-to-house canvass, but no inquiry shall be made as to the political opinions of any person. Every person charged with duty with regard to any election of a member of Congress who shall commit any fraud therein shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $5,000, or to imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both. The same penalty is provided for bribery or the attempted bribery of voters.

What Sent Silver Up.
By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—The agreement of the Republican caucus in Congress for the compulsory coinage of 4,500,000 ounces of silver per month acted at once as a bull point on the market for silver bullion certificates, and upwards of 200,000 ounces were bought before noon at the price of $2\frac{1}{4}$ cents and $2\frac{3}{4}$ cents an ounce above yesterday's quotations. The majority of purchases indicated that they were arbitrary transactions. The London price for silver bullion advanced one penny per ounce to-day, but it is still, allowing for exchange, about 1 per cent. below the New York price.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Last Night's Party a Success.

Last evening's Odd Fellows ball is conceded to have been one of the most satisfactory and pleasant social events of the season. It is estimated that more people participated in the grand march than were ever seen on the floor of the Pavilion before.

Gamblers in Grain.

Forty-four million bushels of wheat were dealt in at the New York Produce Exchange in one day in the early part of this week. The total wheat product of the United States for 1888 is given at 415,868,000 bushels, so that about one-tenth of the yearly product of the country was dealt in by one exchange on one day. As there are many exchanges in different cities, meeting daily, this will serve to illustrate the extent of the gambling in grain which is carried on.

The Omaha World says: When the enormous expense of the maintenance of the vast army of operators necessary to carry on this business is taken into consideration, some idea may be formed of its pernicious influence upon the community at large. For these men produce nothing, create no value, and must necessarily gain their living from the labor of those who do. Their cost to the community comes out of the difference in price received by the producer and that paid by the consumer, an aggregate of wealth whose just distribution would go far to alleviate the distresses, or increase the comforts, of both those classes. These people aver that they act as distributors, and put money into circulation. But if one exchange can handle one-tenth of the entire product at one session, what earthly necessity can exist for so many as are in operation? And if they put money into circulation, so do faro banks and lotteries, and yet these are looked down upon by right thinking people and suppressed by law.

Those who advocate this species of gambling say that their profits are not derived from the producer and consumer, but come from the avarice and cupidity of persons of less experience than themselves, who desire to get other people's money without adequate return, and who, in their efforts to do so, fall into the meshes so carefully spread for them by unscrupulous schemers. This is unfortunately true to a certain extent, though it does not cover the whole case, but even so far as it goes, it is not a system to be looked upon with toleration by honest people. The law interposes its protection to silly men about to be inveigled into bunko games and "green goods" purchases, and why it should offer a premium to those engaged in similar enterprises under other names, is somewhat difficult to determine. Let all gambling be placed upon the same level and be equally permitted or prohibited, as the authorities shall determine.

Open Your Eyes.

This community has been leading a village life up to this time and each man has had but little concern for matters beyond his own farm fence or his own counter. This must change. Reno and Washoe county must wake up. Just on its outer edges lie vast interests which can be attended to greatly to our advantage.

Lake Tahoe's waters must not be lost. Donner Lake and other other reservoirs must be built, ditches must be dug, more hard labor must be put upon the land, Inyo and Lassen county development encouraged, the northern railroad pushed a little further and a broader plan laid down for reaching a higher level commercially and materially. All this can easily be done. Similar work has been done everywhere that growth has been made, and we must make something of ourselves or no one else will. We throw out the hint feeling that the seed will fall upon good ground and bear fruit.

THE members of the Nevada State Board of Trade are considering the advisability of addressing the Board of Supervisors of the city of San Francisco on the Von Schmidt water scheme. He is making great pretensions to rights in Lake Tahoe's waters, and is trying to impose upon the people down there. It would be a good thing for the people here to make a plain and straightforward statement of the case, showing that they own all the water that falls, and none of it can be diverted.

THE London Iron and Steel Trades Journal has the following: "The Berlin correspondent of the Times says that to those who read attentively, especially between the lines, the utterances of the most influential organs of the German press, it appears that the chief purpose of the Labor Conference, from the German point of view, will be to devise measures to enable German industry to compete successfully in all foreign markets, while putting the industries of all other countries on such a footing as to render their competition in the German market impossible."

We judge from this that a probable outcome of the Labor Conference will be to improve the condition of the laboring poor in Europe and England, for nothing excites much greater enmity in the papers of the Times' class than a proposition looking to any improvement of that kind.

CONGRESSMAN BIGGS of California comes out squarely for the spoils doctrine. It was not necessary as a matter of record, says the Bulletin. Mr. Biggs is known to be an old-fashioned Democrat—one who, to use his own words in a Democratic State Convention, "cut up his grapevines to plant corn to make good Democratic whisky," whereat the assembled Democracy applauded rapturously, just as they did at his spoils speech in Congress Thursday. "Whisky and offices" is the shibboleth of the Democracy to-day, just as "bread and circuses" voiced the ambition of the Democracy of ancient Rome. By the way, why should Mr. Biggs saddle Jefferson with the invention of the spoils system instead of Jackson.

A BIG big business in adulterating Russian wheat is reported from St. Petersburg. That ought to have a good effect on the price of American wheat in European markets.

MAJOR DENNIS' work on the Times-Review shows the impossibility of a free trade Democrat to edit a Republican paper. The lion skin is a little short at both ends.

Scrofula Sores.

"My adopted boy, aged 14 years, suffered terribly from scrofula sores on his leg, which spread till they at one time formed one great sore from the calf of his leg up to his thigh, partially covered with scab, and discharging matter continually. The muscles became contracted so that his leg was drawn up and he could hardly walk. We tried everything we could hear of, without success, until we began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In just a month, after he had taken two-thirds of a bottle, the sores entirely healed, his leg is perfectly straight, and he

Go to Leadbetter's for first-class groceries and provisions.

Go to the Wine House Barber Shop for you don't need to wait. Three first-class barbers at Coleman & Morris' shop.

The music made by the rushing Truckee river has a quieting effect on the nerves of the patrons of the Riverside Hotel.

C. J. Brookins continues to manufacture daily, every variety of candy, from plain taffy to the choicest French mixed article.

C. A. Thurston carries all sizes, colors and styles of envelopes known to the trade; also the best note, letter and legal cap paper.

Nothing but first-class work at Coleman & Morris' Wine House Barber Shop on Saturdays, Sundays, or any other day; no waiting, no growling.

To-morrow being Sunday, you want to go to J. J. Becker's Chicago saloon for an extra fine lunch of clam chowder, Boston baked beans and brown bread.

Patrons of W. T. Craig's grocery store should bear in mind the fact that they should get their Sunday supplies this evening, as he does not open on the first day of the week.

People in want of any of the goods carried by Miss Emma Gibbs will find they can save money and much delay and bother by patronizing her instead of sending away from home.

No matter how early or late you arrive in town, you will always find the Arcade open, ready to furnish you with a nice room and a first-class meal. Give your family a treat to-morrow at the best Sunday dinner furnished in town.

CATARRH,

Catarrhal Deafness—Hay Fever A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N.B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of three cents in stamps to pay postage. A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from Catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.

On a recent visit to Iowa, Mr. K Dalton of Luray, Russell Co., Kansas, called at the labroratory of Chamberlain & Co., Des Moins, to show them his six year old boy, whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy; it having cured him of a very severe attack of croup. Mr. Dalton is certain that it saved his boy's life and is enthusiastic in his praise of the Remedy. He says it has an excellent reputation in his vicinity; that farmers come fifteen miles to his store for it and that many of them, like hinself, are never without it in their homes. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

Liver Complaint—Biliousness.

The chief symptoms of this disease are depression of spirits, foul coated tongue, bad tasting mouth, disagreeable breath, dry skin, with blotches and eruptions, sallow complexion and yellow eyes, tired, aching shoulders, dull pain in right side, faintness, dizziness and irregular bowels. This complaint in all of its forms can be readily cured by taking Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as directed, and a lingering spell of sickness will often be warded off by their use. Sold at 25c. a box by S. J Hodgkinson. ap3

Mr. B. F. Masters, Cashier of Emmitt & Co.'s Bank at Waverly, Ohio, says: "I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best I have ever used. After using several other kinds, without benefit, I tried it and it quickly cured me, after years of suffering with an obstinate cough and throat trouble." 50 cent bottles for sale by Shoemaker & Co.

A Sure Cure for Piles.

Itching Piles are known by moisture, like perspiration causing intense itching when warm This form, as well as blind, bleeding and protruding, yield at once to Dr. Bosanko's Pile remedy, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs tumors, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. 50c. Druggists or mail; treatise free. Dr. Bosanko, Piqua, O. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson. ap3

Elder B. F. Kittenger of Gettysburg Pennsylvania, says he has been suffering with a cold and cough, also his wife, that they took to using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and received great benefit from it. Yet he says, "It was so pleasant to take." For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

Advice to Mothers.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. iy

When nature falters and requires help, recruit her enfeebled energies with Dr. J. H. McLean's strengthening, Cordial and Blood Purifier. $1 00 per bottle.

AN ATROCIOUS MURDER.

A Merchant of Modoc County, Cal., Shot While Going to His Store.

The Lassen Advocate of the 24th inst. says: A. Broili, a merchant at Willow Ranch, Modoc county, Cal., was murdered by unknown parties Tuesday evening. From a telegraph dispatch received at this office the following particulars of this atrocious murder was obtained: Mr. Broili was in the habit of sleeping in his store, which is situated from a quarter to a half a mile distant from his residence. On the evening of the murder he went to the house for supper, and while returning to the store for the night was shot, and afterwards his head was beaten to a pulp. His wife did not think anything of his absence until the body was found by a couple of drummers who were en route to Alturas. He was in well-to-do circumstances, and leaves a wife and several children. He was a good citizen, and highly respected. No clue as to who the guilty party or parties are has yet been obtained. As to the motive of the crime, it is still a mystery.

Must Be Insane.

A Fresno (Cal.) telegram of the 25th inst. says: Mrs. Sarah Althea Terry appeared in the office of C. G. Sayle, administrator of the Terry estate, this morning and demanded some money. He said there was none on hand belonging to the estate. She then went into the adjoining office of N. C. Caldwell, who is attorney for the administrator. Caldwell ejected her, but she returned and broke a window. Sayle left the office and she followed, threatening to shoot him.

Good Templars' Election.

At the regular meeting last evening of Fidelity Lodge No. 4, I. O. G. T., the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter: C. T., Francis Porter; V. T. Miss Dora Stanley; R. S., Miss Nellie Little; F. S., Miss Emily Gilman; T., M. G. McLellan; C., A. L. Backus; M., George Bates; I. G., Miss Pearl Dawson; O. G., A. Longfield; S. J. T., C. H. Gardner; Organist, Miss Belle Stanley.

The Gates Closed.

Messrs. Mayberry and Gould, who returned last evening from their Lake Tahoe trip, where they were sent by the action of a mass meeting recently held in Reno, report that their mission was completely successful. The property owners all around the lake were willing to have the gates closed, and before they started home an order to stop any further waste was issued and obeyed.

Exceptional Attractions.

Such is the announcement of the Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House in to-day's GAZETTE. They opened out a magnificent lot of goods the other day, which immediately caught the eyes of the ladies. Now they are offering attractions that are astonishing all, both as to superior goods and prices.

Photograph Parlors.

Messrs. Rifenburg & Dowe, San Francisco photographers, have arrived in Reno, and will open parlors on the corner of First and Virginia streets on or about May 1st. They come well recommended, and if their work is up to samples shown, they will please the most fastidious.

A Child Drowned.

A three-year-old daughter of Mr. Siebe, at Auburn, was drowned last evening, and the poor little body was carried six miles down the stream. Mr. Siebe has many friends on this side of the mountains who sympathize with his dreadful loss.

Robbers Around.

The ticket office at Truckee was robbed this morning and about $40 in coin taken. The enterprising burglar took a bar off the switch engine and pried the sliding-board open.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.

Theodore Winters came to town last evening and this morning went to the track to see his colts work.

G. E. Holesworth is putting up a building on the corner of Virginia and Firs. streets, to be used as a photograph gallery.

Captain Todman of the Lake Tahoe steamer Tod Goodwin, is having that neat little craft put in order for the coming season's business.

A dispatch from Carson City to the effect that a recent storm "entirely destroyed the plum crop throughout the State" is not true. As yet no plums have been injured in Washoe county.

Being short of large-sized postoffice boxes, Postmaster Kraus last evening put in a couple of new ones in the upper part of the door to the back office for the convenience of the State University and the Bank of Nevada.

The Humboldt river water suit, according to the Silver State, was adjourned until June 17th, not June 10th, as the GAZETTE was informed by those who came in from Winnemucca Thursday evening.

The bruising match last night at the Golden Gate Athletic Club of San Francisco, between Charlie Turner of Stockton and Denny Kelleher of Boston, resulted in a knockout for Kelleher in the thirteenth round.

From the Lassen Advocate it is learned that the N.-C.-O. Company has recently been making improvements at Liegan for the accommodation of those Modoc county people, who this season for the first time will receive their freight over that road.

PERSONAL.

R. L. Fulton returned from below this morning.

M. S. Bonnifield of Winnemucca is in town to-day.

Superintendent Whited returned from below this morning.

John Gillig, the Comstock hardware man, came up from the Bay on this morning's express.

Colonel Sutherland, who has large mining interests in Esmeralda county, went below last evening.

Mrs. Annie Chambers and daughter, Bessie, returned to-day from San Francisco, where they have been on a visit to relatives.

Deputy Sheriff John McKee of Elko county arrived last evening with John Dunlap, a lunatic, whom he delivered at the Insane Asylum.

H. H. Pierson, formerly of the Cosmopolitan and Baldwin Hotels in San Francisco, and now of Salt Lake, passed east on this morning's overland.

Governor Stanford and wife passed east this morning in their private car "Stanford." They were one day later than originally reported from San Francisco.

Captain Harkness, an old sea-faring associate and friend of M. E. Ward, who for some time has been visiting here, left this morning for his home "way down in Maine."

John Bradley, who has been returning the cattle of his firm to Elko county from the sink of the Carson river, where they were fed last winter, returned to Reno last night.

Every Meal is a Trial.

To the dyspeptic. Flatulence, heartburn, oppressive fullness of the stomach, are the inevitable sequences of his use of the knife and fork. To say of him that he gratifies the craving of appetite would be genuine satire. He only appeases them. Is relief attainable? Certainly, and by the use of a pleasant as well as thorough remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Will it cure immediately? Certainly not—it does not effect miracles. But it does give prompt and unspeakable relief, and will, if persisted in, produce an ultimate cure. Not only does it impart relish to the food, but promotes its conversion by the stomach into rich, health and strength-sustaining blood. Supersensitiveness of the nerves, mental depression, and unquiet slumber, produces by interruption of the digestive functions, are also remedied by it. It is the finest preventive and curative of malarial disorders, and relieves constipation, rheumatism, kidney and bladder ailments, and liver complaint.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought an other and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For further particular send stamp to W. H. Cole, druggist, Fo Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery free at W. Pinniger's drug store.

Exposure to rough weather, getting wet living in damp localities are favorable to the contraction of diseases of the kidneys and bladder As a preventive, and for the cure of all kidney and liver trouble, use that valuable remedy Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm. $1 00 per bottle.

SERIOUSLY HURT.

A Man Struck in the Head by a Rolling Stone.

The Genoa Courier says: J. B. Donohue, who came from Truckee two weeks ago, was quite seriously hurt at J. H. Martin's wood camp last Wednesday. Donohue was down in a canyon blasting to make way for a flume. A rock six inches in diameter broke loose and came rolling down from a long distance up the mountain. Some of the woodmen saw it and shouted to the men below, but the warning could not be heard on account of the sound of rushing water in the canyon. The rock struck Donohue in the back of the head, cutting a gash three inches long and laying the skull bare. The man was unconscious for some time. Dr. Young, who was called, walked up over the canyon south of Genoa and dressed the wound. Donohue still remains at the camp.

Taken to Los Angeles.

The twenty-one Chines who were captured while attempting to smuggle themselves across the Mexican line were taken to Los Angeles Thursday. They were followed by a considerable crowd through the streets.

Crop Beports Wanted.

Signal Officer Barwick of Sacramento has received notice to send weekly crop reports to the proper department at Washington hereafter, to be included in those now sent out from the Agricultural Bureau.

A CASE IN POINT.

In our forefathers' days, pimples were attributed to diseased blood. But modern medicine has demonstrated that rich food does not create eruptions by fouling the blood, but retards digestion, which makes the stomach torpid, and the circulation sluggish, and in turn causes an enfeebled action of the pores which congest or become pimply. The modern theory therefore is not to treat the blood, but the stomach and liver, and it is under this new idea, that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was conceived. It is wiping the old "blood disease" idea out of existence. A case in point: "I have had for years spells of indigestion and dyspepsia and tried nearly everything. Finally I took one of the leading sarsaparillas. It caused pimples to break out on my face, which I was told was caused by the potash. Hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain mineral, I sent for it. The pimples disappeared and I have had no return of the old spells. It is a cure for indigestion and dyspepsia and the attendant face eruptions." MRS. C. D. STUART, 1221 Mission street. S. F.

Eupepsy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee the Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in will bring you good digestion, and oust Dyspepsia, and install instead Eupepsy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1 per bottle by W. Pinniger druggist.

BETTER THAN GOLD.

RESTORED HER HEALTH.

For 25 years I suffered from boils, erysipelas and other blood affections, taking during that time great quantities of different medicines without giving me any perceptible relief. Friends induced me to try S. S. S. It improved me from the start, and after taking several bottles, restored my health as far as I could hope for at my age, which is now seventy-five years.

HEARD IN ENGLAND.

Some Things Eugene Field Learned in London Town.

A List of Articles to Which the English Assign Names Differing from Those We Use—Indirectness of Speech Prevails Everywhere.

You must pardon me for using that word molasses. Having lived six months in Britain I should have said treacle, writes Eugene Field in the Chicago News. I study to be correct even in little matters of this kind, but I find it very hard to conform to English as it is spoken this side of the saline pool.

Quite at random I made up a list of articles to which the English assign names differing from those we use:

That which we call a bowl is here known as a basin. In England you ask for a basin of bread and milk.

That which is known to us as a pitcher is here called a jug.

A donkey here is called a moke; in America a moke is a negro. Local slang for a cab-horse is "cat's meat," because the meat of horses is peddled around the streets for feeding to cats. By the way, British cats average much larger than our American cats, and they are notorious chicken-killers. The brindle cat seems to be the commonest.

What we call crackers are here called biscuit, and I suspect that this is strictly correct.

What we call shoes, are here known as boots, and what we call boots are here known as bluchers. There is one shoe called the hilo, because it runs high from the heel up back of the ankle and is cut low in front.

Our druggist is here a chemist, many of the older practitioners retaining the old spelling—"chymist."

What we call ale is here known as bitter beer.

What is here known as a hash we should call a stew, and what we call a hash is here known as a mince.

In England our overcoat becomes a great coat, our undershirt becomes a vest, and our drawers become pantaloons. It is said that when George W. Childs, of Philadelphia, was in London a number of years ago he walked into a haberdashery, and, seeking to appear to be a native, asked to be shown the styles in silk waistcoats. "Jeemes," cried the proprietor to his assistant, "step this way and show this Hamerican gentleman our flowery weskits!"

What we call sick the Englishman calls ill; sickness here implies nausea and vomiting. The British usage is wrong; but the late Richard Grant White settled the point pretty definitely. How came the British to fall into this perversion? It was, I think, because the British can go nowhere except by water; that travel by water induces unpleasant symptoms of nausea and retching, which condition, called sickness, gradually came to be regarded as the correct definition of the word sickness. I can't imagine how the British justify their use of the words homesick, heartsick and lovesick.

Here they call a street-car a tram; correct. Here, too, an elevator is a lift, and that is right.

What we call a telegram is here called a telegraph; it will probably never be determined which of these usages is the better. Our postal-card is here a postcard; cuffs become wrists.

That material known to us as canton flannel is here called swan's-down, and our muslin is known hereabout as calico.

Our locomotive becomes engine, and our conductor is here a guard.

What we call stewing (culinary term) the British call simmering; our lunch is here a luncheon, and our baggage becomes luggage.

Our wheat is called corn, and our corn is called maize, or sometimes Indian corn. Pigs' feet are called trotters. By the way, a theatrical name for a bad actor is rotter.

A "chill" is here called a "rigor," and the eruption commonly known among us as "hives" is here known as "nettle-rash." Candy is variously known as "sweets," "sweetmeats" and "lolly."

Writing to John Smith, your social equal, you are expected to address him as John Smith, Esq.; if he be your tailor, grocer, etc., you address him as Mr. John Smith.

The word "apt" is exceedingly popular here. It is "apt to rain," "apt to be muddy," a man is "apt to go down town," a bank is "apt to suspend," etc. Even the best prints use this word as a synonym for "likely" and "like." Another barbarism everywhere prevalent in the United Kingdom is the use of the adverb "directly" for the conjunction "as soon as"—e. g., "directly he went out I shut the door." Charles Dickens, who was quite slovenly at times, seems to have been addicted to this indefensible vice.

What does this British word "leftenant" mean? I should like to know.

"Quite" is another hackneyed word here; it is edged in upon every occasion.

The first criticism I would pass upon the press of London would be for the indirectness of its speech. When a newspaper writer wishes to convey the idea that yesterday was a pleasant day, he says: "Yesterday was not an unpleasant day." A good play is "not half bad," a humorous speech is "not unrelieved by wit," a riotously applauded address is "not wholly unaccented by demonstrations of approval," and so on, ad infin. et ad naus. Now all this sort of thing may be subtle and it may be conservative, but it is not in the spirit of the Anglo-Saxon, and it vexes me to find so little of the Anglo-Saxon in the literature, the speech and the practices of the very people where I had thought to find so much.

THE LAKE OF DEATH.

A Mysterious Sheet of Water Which No Living Thing Can Survive.

"Devil's Lake," in Calhoun County, Ala., seventy miles east of Birmingham, is one of the most remarkable natural curiosities to be found in America. The lake is oval in shape, and covers about four acres of ground. No vegetation of any kind grows on its banks and nothing lives in its waters. Even snakes and terrapins shun the waters of Devil's Lake, and fish placed in it die in a few hours. The water is clear limestone, with a peculiar taste, which makes it unpalatable to man or beast. Horses and cows will not drink it, no matter how thirsty they may be.

Deep down below the surface of the lake may be seen what appears to be the charred and blackened trunks of large trees. They stand upright in the water, but have neither root nor branch and never rise to the surface nor sink to the bottom. The lake has no outlet and the volume of water in it is the same all the time.

A strange fatality attaches to this lake. Once it was the favorite resort of the boys of the neighborhood for bathing and swimming, but now they never go near it. Fifteen boys have been drowned in its waters in twice as many years. A few of the bodies were recovered, but those who were drowned any distance from the banks sunk to the bottom and were never brought to the surface.

The depth of the lake has never been ascertained. Soundings to a depth of seven hundred feet found no bottom, and the people in the vicinity say the lake has none. The Indian legend of the origin of the lake is that before the white man came to this country two tribes became involved in a war, and after a number of bloody battles the smaller tribe was almost exterminated. Then the old men and chiefs of the weak tribe sued for peace and arranged for a council. While the pipe was being passed around a signal was given and the chiefs of the strong tribe suddenly sprang up with drawn tomahawks and murdered every one of the chiefs of the smaller tribe.

Then the war was renewed and carried on until the weak tribe was exterminated. A few moons after the massacre of the chiefs a fire broke out in the pine forest where the massacre occurred. The fire burned in this spot for eight moons and the ground sunk down out of sight; the fire disappeared, and in its stead appeared a lake. The Indians gave the lake a name which means "lake of death."

WON THE BIG PRIZE.

A Book-Keeper's Sad Experience with a Horse and Wagon.

It is not often that winning a prize will make a man look sad, but the unlikely frequently happens, says the Chicago Globe. The other morning the book-keeper in one of the wholesale establishments of the city went to his desk looking so blue that his fellow clerks thought he must have lost some of his relatives during the night. They delicately inquired what the trouble was, and were somewhat abashed at the response:

"Oh, it is all my cursed luck," he exclaimed. "I never knew such an unfortunate fellow as I am."

"Why, you have not been toying with the tiger and gone dead broke?" they asked, still more interested.

"Well, not exactly," he replied. "The fact is, I bought a ticket for a raffle, and won a horse and wagon."

"But what is there in that to make you look blue?" they asked, in astonishment.

"Well, I will tell you. It is just this way. I was acquainted with an old expressman—had known him for forty years, in fact. He had an old horse and wagon that he drove all that time. Like their owner they were pretty well worn out. Well, the old man sickened and died, and his friends determined to raffle the horse and wagon in order to get enough to bury him decently. Of course I had to buy a ticket, and would you believe it, I won! Now, what I am to do with that horse and wagon is what bothers me. They are a perfect white elephant on my hands. Nobody would buy them from me. I can not take them and leave them on the street, and I can not let the poor old brute of a horse die of starvation. He will eat his head off in less than no time, and yet what can I do? I will give anybody five dollars who will relieve me of my prize and call it square."

BUSINESS BREVITIES.

NATURAL gas saves Pittsburgh 7,000,000 tons of coal per year.

THERE are thirty-six car-building companies in the United States, and in the year 1889 they turned out 70,546 cars.

ONE of the big life insurance companies of New York intends to put up a building in Salt Lake City that will cost $1,500,000.

IT is stated that one real estate firm at Salt Lake City cleared $140,000 last year on commissions alone. Another broker banked $36,000 in six months.

THE petroleum supply of Pennsylvania seems to be inexhaustible. During the month of February 876 new wells were opened, adding 10,459 barrels daily to the yield of the oil regions.

IT is said that the bronze casting in the foundry in South Chicago is fully equal to that done in Europe. The advantage to sculptors in having so near them such a place for the casting of their work is highly appreciated.

CALLING BY PROXY.

Some of the Peculiarities of Society Life at Washington.

Very little of the paying of visits by people in high official life is done in person. The President makes no calls. The Vice-President does all his "calling" through his private secretary, whose chief duty it is to ride around in a coupe and leave the cards of Mr. and Mrs. Morton at the doors of houses where calls are due. The members of the Cabinet do most of their "calling" by mail. The men whose duty it is to do this "proxy" calling, I am informed, have any thing but an easy time. Riding about in a carriage all day is an attractive occupation when viewed from a distance. It loses many of its charms when it is practised day after day, and nearly all of its attractiveness when it is interspersed by constant stoppages along the route of travel. Some of these deputy Cabinet officers make fifty and seventy-five calls a day. They have many amusing encounters, for they visit all parts of the city and pay their respects, or rather the respects of their superiors, to people of all classes and conditions. The receptions of the members of the Cabinet are open to all comers, and all sorts of people make the rounds Wednesdays. It is a social obligation to which all people in high official life must conform to return all of the calls that are made upon them. So the deputy secretaries spin around the city all day, driving from cottage to palace, distributing graceful bits of pasteboard, which the recipients may place on their center tables as mute evidence to the uninitiated that the Secretary of —— has called upon them. At the houses where "receiving" has been thoroughly systematized, the colored man at the door gracefully holds out his salver to receive the cards, and watches the rapid escape of the card-bearer without surprise or comment. At other homes when the coupe stops at the door there are evidences of preparation for the reception going on within. Children peep out of the window and run back with the evident intention of "telling mamma" that somebody is about to call. The servitor throws wide the door to admit the expected guest. Then there is a sudden pall thrown over the expectant community by the bland announcement of the young man with the card case that he will not come in; and, as the door-keeper accepts the cards in a rather doubtful way, three pairs of eyes follow the young man in his progress to the coupe, and watch it as it whirls down the street. At some of the lowlier dwellings it is necessary to push the cards under the door and flee before the bell is answered for fear that the ambassador will be dragged in by force of arms and made to pay his chief's call in person. These little variations of the accustomed monotony are all that make life endurable to the professional official callers.—N. Y. Tribune.

HOME HINTS AND HELPS.

—Dried rose leaves impart a pleasant fragrance to a room.

—Rub chalk all along the edge of the door that "sticks," then close it as nearly as you can. The chalk will only come off on that portion of the door opposite the part that needs planing to ease the door. So you need not waste your wood and time in planing away any other part.—Old Homestead —To be good, mutton should be fat and the fat clear and hard. The lean of the meat should be a dark red. The hind-quarter is best for roasting. The ribs may be used for chops, and are very delicate. The leg should be boiled and served with sauce. Cutlets may be taken from the neck.—Farm and Fireside.

—To color blue the goods should be clean, and to prevent spotting dip them into water just before putting them into the dye. Use soft water and have sufficient of the preparation to cover the material well. Dissolve one-half tablespoonful of alum in a teacupful of hot water, add this to one gallon of cold water, then add chemic blue (extract of indigo), one teaspoonful at a time, to obtain the depth of color desired.—N. Y. World.

—Parsnip Soup.—Scrape and cut in slices half a dozen good sweet parsnips, and boil very tender. Rub through a colander and add to the water in which they were boiled, with a little celery or parsley if possible and a generous bowl of cream. Season with salt and cayenne; use celery seed also, or celery salt if the fresh celery is not to be had. Serve with fried or toasted bread in dice. Carrots may be used in the same way. Both make a very good soup.—Country Gentleman.

—Buckwheat Short Cake.—For those busy housewives who are tired of standing over the stove frying buckwheat cakes, we give the following: Dissolve one teaspoonful soda in a quart of buttermilk or sour milk, add a little salt and stir in buckwheat flour until the batter is much thicker than for the ordinary griddle cakes, then pour it into a greased pan and bake half an hour in quick oven. A handful of wheat flour may be added if preferred. To be eaten hot with butter, syrup or honey.—Orange Judd Farmer.

The Latest in Bodices.

The new bodices are as nearly seamless as possible, without darts or side forms, the only seams being under the arms and on the shoulders, but made over a lining which has the usual number of seams. The back of the corsage is sometimes entirely straight and flat, or it may have two or four tiny plaits at the waist. The front fastens on the left side and shoulder by invisible hooks and eyes. Such bodices may be round, with their edges tucked under the skirt belt, but there are also genuine basques made with few seams, the fabric plaited at the waist line, turned under below in a soft puff, and worn with a belt of ribbon tied in front, or fastened on the side or back with a rosette. High collars are made high enough to turn over an inch at the top, showing a facing of the silk or velvet used in combination, trimmed with narrow gimp, or a slight vine of embroidery.—Harper's Bazar.

Permeated with Kerosene.

A Cleveland chemist says that people who use kerosene lamps for a number of years become so permeated with the oil that their bodies after death scarcely need any embalming fluid to preserve them.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A sea-serpent, 103 feet long, was seen to coil itself up in slippery folds on the coast of Florida last month. Three reliable persons saw this creature distinctly.

Reader, the above is a "yarn." If people would believe the following truthful statement as readily as they swallow sea-serpent stories, it would be the means of saving thousands of lives. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, if taken in time and given a fair trial, will actually cure consumption of the lungs, which is really scrofulous disease. If this wonderful medicine does not do all we recommend, when taken as directed, we will cheerfully and promptly return all money paid for it. Can any offer be more generous or fair? No other medicine possesses sufficient power over that fatal malady—Consumption, to warrant its manufacturers in selling it under such trying conditions. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not only the most wonderful alterative, or blood-cleanser, known to medical science, but also possesses superior nutritive and tonic, or strength-giving properties, which assist the food to digest and become assimilated, thus building up both strength and flesh. For all cases of Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases, accompanied with lingering coughs, it is absolutely unequaled.

$500 REWARD is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Catarrh in the Head which they cannot cure. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases, no matter how bad, or of how long standing. Fifty cents, by druggists.
